LILLY'S DEATH IS BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN ACCIDENTAL

La Crescent Youth, Killed by Freight Train at Stockton, on Way to Football Game

AUTO OF MADISON YOUTHS BROKE DOWN AT UTICA, MINN.

Party Searched for Lilly and Then Resumed Trip on Train

GEORGE BUTLER LILLY of La Crescent, former La Crosse high school track team star, whose mangled body was found on the Northwestern railroad tracks early Saturday morning near Stockton, Minn., was jolted off a freight train on which he was riding to Winona and killed, is the belief of Winona authorities.

Lilly's father and brother were in Winona on Saturday, making arrangements to take the body home. According to Sheriff Huck, the dead man's family accepts the theory that Lilly fell from the freight train to his death.

Lilly and six other Madison youths all of them university students and members of the Zeta Psi, left Madison on Friday to drive to Minneapolis to see the Minnesota-Wisconsin football game. The party passed through La Crosse and La Crescent about 11 p. m. Friday. Shortly after 10 a. m. Saturday the auto reached Utica, Minn., three stations west of Winona. There the car broke down.

An east-bound freight train was waiting at Utica to allow a westbound passenger train to pass. The train left Stockton at 1:57 a. m. The engineer said he saw a group of students near a garage, which was located near the tracks. He also said he heard them arguing about the car. It is believed Lilly, thinking the car could not be repaired, boarded the freight to go to Winona and there to take a passenger train to Minneapolis. The rest of the party, after searching for four hours for Lilly, took a passenger train going west, changing a short distance further on for a Minneapolis train.

Sheriff Huck and Dr. E. M. McLaughlin, coroner, say there probably will be no inquest, unless one is requested by the county attorney. The authorities accept the theory that Lilly's death was accidental, that he either fell or was jolted off the freight train. There was $10 in his clothing, so this, the sheriff points out, disposes of the idea that Lilly met with foul play and was robbed.

Those in the auto party besides Lilly were Albert Parks, W. H. Stolte, Ezra Evans, Warren Taylor, R. E. Johnstone and Edward Reichert of Madison.

DOZEN BREWERIES INDICTED BY U. S. GRAND JURY TODAY

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Thirty-six indictments were reported in federal court Monday by the grand jury. The exact nature of the charges against the defendants was not disclosed by F. C. Westfahl, Jr., clerk of the court. All that he would say was that a majority charged violation of the Volstead act.

It is estimated that about a dozen brewing concerns were indicted on a charge of brewing beer of an illegal strength.

INSIST UPON WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS IN CONSTANTINOPLE; BRITISH TO UPHOLD TRUCE

Britain Firm in Determination to Keep Troops in City; Warships Barred from Straits Except by Permit; Turkish Troops Moving into Neutral Zone

LONDON.—By the Associated Press.—As a result of the new situation created in Constantinople by the demand of Rafet Pasha that the allied military occupation of the city cease, the peace conference called to be held at Lausanne November 13, has been postponed possibly for a fortnight it was announced here Monday.

It is stated in authoritative circles that under no circumstances will the British point of view regarding the presence of allied troops in Constantinople be changed. The British intend to uphold the Mudania agreement and remain in the neutral zone with their troops.

If the Angora government, however, desires to send civil administrative officers to Chanak, Gallipoli and Constantinople there will be no objection, it is declared.

So far as can be learned Monday the sultan has not abdicated. It is believed the British authorities are taking measures to protect him and the crown prince.

Bar Ships From Straits

CONSTANTINOPLE.—By the Associated Press.—The Turkish nationalist government has handed a note to the allied high commissioners here to the effect that the warships of all nations must ask it for authorization to pass the straits of the Dardanelles, the Havas correspondent here has been informed.

They must also salute the new government of Turkey.

Order Allies to Leave

CONSTANTINOPLE.—By the Associated Press.—The Turkish nationalists, after overthrowing the sultan's government and declaring him bereft of all his civil power, are now seeking fresh conquests in a matter that may bring about trouble with the allies.

Sunday night, after taking over control of Constantinople, the nationalists demanded withdrawal of the allied troops from the city and served notice that allied or American sailors would not be permitted to land from their warships at Kemalist ports except by special permission of the Angora government.

An extraordinary meeting of the allied commissioners quickly assembled to decide what stand they should take in the quickly altered situation, determined that they would refuse categorically the demand for military evacuation of Constantinople.

Along with the demand for the departure of allied troops, the Turkish nationalist government in an additional note handed to the allied commissioners by Hamid Bey, asked that the Turkish railways in Europe and Asia which are under temporary allied control, be handed over to the Angora government immediately. Over the week-end the nationalists bucked up against the allies not only through written notes but with a show of physical power as well. With a seeming disregard for the agreements in the Mudania convention that recently brought an end to armed hostilities in the near east, Turkish gendarmes have now moved into areas known as neutral.

They are advancing into the Chanak area where only a few weeks ago the British dug themselves in to prevent violation of neutrality in that district. At Brugas, a few miles from the Dardanelles, the Kemalists have established an administration.

Committee Picking Caliph

In Angora the religious committee of the assembly is hurriedly trying to choose the person it considers most qualified to ascend the Osman throne as caliph in the view of the nationalists and Rafet Pasha has served notice that any attack against his person would be regarded as an offense against the moslem religion. Sunday tens of thousands swarmed in the streets near the Yildiz palace, where the sultan is ensconced and many hurled vile epithets at the tottering ruler hidden behind the walls of the imposing building. Armed allied soldiers formed a human screen around the palace to prevent the surging masses from getting too close to the place where the sultan resides.

The welter of week-end changes in the control of Constantinople has brought about great consternation and turmoil. All the Christians seem in great fear of a massacre.

The Turkish populace in Stamboul and other quarters of the sublime porte has for two days and two nights been celebrating the change in government. At one time the demonstrations became so wild and so potentially dangerous that allied soldiers had to fire upon the mobs to dispel them. Several Turks were killed by these shots.

Expected to Sign Abdication

CONSTANTINOPLE.—A letter of abdication was prepared today for the sultan, which he is expected to sign. He is not expected to resist, because he remains for some time the Khalif of Islam.

UNANIMOUS VOTE FOR LA FOLLETTE BRINGS $50 PRIZE TO TOWN

MADISON, Wis.—A check for $50 has just been received by the town of Port Edwards, as a result of its unanimous vote cast for the La Follette progressive republican ticket in the September primaries. Lancelot A. Gordon, assistant secretary of state, advised S. D. Stevens of Nekoosa, that this offer was made by a citizen of Milwaukee to all towns throughout the state casting their entire vote for the La Follette ticket.

The town of Port Edwards gave 78 votes out of 78 cast to the progressive candidates thus being one of two towns to give a unanimous ballot. The name of the other town is not mentioned. The check has been turned over to the German Lutheran church at Port Edwards for use as it sees fit.

GEORGE NEUKOMM, OLD RESIDENT OF CITY DIES SUNDAY NIGHT

Twin Brother of Well-known Chef, John Neukomm, Was Brewmaster Many Years

George Neukomm, an old resident of La Crosse, died Sunday night at a local sanitarium, of complication of diseases. He was born at Unter Hallan, Switzerland, April 11, 1858.

He was a twin brother of John Neukomm, well known chef, who died in 1911. The deceased came to America in 1874, coming directly to La Crosse where he resided until his death, being employed for many years as brewmaster for the Heileman Brewing company and in later years for the Monitor Brewing company. He was a member of the Third Ward Aid society and the Governor's guard. Surviving him is a cousin, Mrs. Reinhart Waecker of this city. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 from Tillman Brothers' parlors. Interment at Oak Grove cemetery.

FASCISTI IN CLASH WITH NATIONALISTS OVER LOCAL POLITICS

ROME.—By The Associated Press.—Fascisti and nationalists clashed Monday at Taranto in southeastern Italy, over questions of local politics. In the fight which ensued, seven were killed and numbers were wounded, casualties being suffered by both sides.

Count Sforza, Italian ambassador to France, was the object of a hostile demonstration by fascisti when he arrived at Bussoleno, in the province of Turin, on the Italian frontier, while returning to Rome for a conference with the new premier, Mussolini. The fascisti detached the carriage in which the count was riding from the train but Carabiners rushed in and rescued him.

SIX SENATORS IN MIDWESTERN STATES SEEK RE-ELECTION

Issues in Off-year Election Go to People for Decision as Campaign Closes

HARDING ADMINISTRATION BIG ISSUE IN OHIO'S CAMPAIGN

Republicans in Revolt Against Candidate in Iowa

CHICAGO, Ill.—By the Associated Press.—Senatorial campaigns in nine states of the middle west end Monday as the issues in Tuesday's off-year election go to the people.

The wind-up finds six United States senators from central states seeking re-election. They are:

Republicans — Townsend (Michigan), Kellogg (Minnesota), La Follette (Wisconsin).

Democrats—Hitchcock (Nebraska), Reed (Missouri), Pomerene (Ohio).

The primary defeat of Senator New in Indiana and McCumber in North Dakota left the republican party in those states with new aspirants to the senate. Former Senator Beveridge, progressive leader in the days of Bull Moose activities, is the standard bearer of Indiana republicans in his campaign to go back to the upper branch of congress.

Lynn J. Frazier, former Nonpartisan league governor of North Dakota, bears the republican label in that state for the McCumber seat.

G. O. P. Fights Brookhart

In Iowa where Smith W. Brookhart is the republican nominee for the senatorial toga which former Senator Kenyon exchanged for the ermine of a federal judge, the closing campaign found a more or less organized republican revolt against the Brookhart candidacy. A somewhat similar condition prevails in North Dakota, where there is considerable republican antipathy to Frazier.

In Missouri a considerable shattering of party lines was apparent in the senatorial campaign with Senator James A. Reed drawing opposition from drys and Wilson democrats at the same time relying on many republican wets to desert Brewster on the wet and dry issue.

The Harding administration is the big issue in Ohio, the president's home state, with prohibition also a question, as the state votes on a beer and wine referendum. Congressman Fess, champion of the Harding forces as the republican nominee, is at the end of one of the most intense campaigns in the country on party issues in his contest with Senator Pomerene.

The Nebraska contest between Senator Hitchcock and Howell is largely one of party principles with a certain amount of wet and dry sentiment figuring.

Two Women Out for Senate

Two women from the middle west, Mrs. Annie Dickie Olesen in Minnesota and Mrs. J. J. Hooper in Wisconsin, both democrats, are among the aspirants for the thirty-six senatorial seats (31 regular and five short terms) contested in thirty-three states tomorrow—Maine having reelected Senator Hale, September 11.

Senator La Follette, during the closing days of the campaign, left Wisconsin and went into Minnesota and North Dakota where he took the stump for Shipstead, farmer-labor candidate against Senator Kellogg, and for Frazier.

Illinois, without a senatorial contest, has witnessed congressional campaign battles of considerable intensity in some districts with democrats hoping to recapture outposts lost in the Harding landslide of 1920 and making a strenuous effort to upset the G. O. P. in republican strongholds.

Chief among the issues in Illinois is the legislative campaign, with Governor Small and Mayor Thompson of Chicago, as leaders of their faction of the republican party who will go along with the Small-Thompson program next winter and spring.

Illinois votes on a $55,000,000 bond issue for soldiers' bonus and a referendum on beer and wine sentiment.

COURT HOUSE AND CITY HALL CLOSE ON ELECTION DAY

The court house and city hall offices will be closed all day Tuesday, general election day, which is a legal holiday. Last minute campaigning is being done on Monday by most of the republican candidates for county offices, the campaigning for this year closing this evening.

CHARITY BALL TICKETS

The ticket committee for the Charity ball wishes to state that those who have been overlooked inadvertently in sending out tickets will please notify Mrs. T. H. Brindley, 218 South Fourteenth street of the commission. Newcomers to La Crosse and residents of surrounding towns are most cordially invited.

WILLIAM AND HIS BRIDE TO SPEND HONEYMOON AT DOORN; THEY'VE NOWHERE ELSE TO GO

DOORN.—By The Associated Press.—Former German Emperor William and his bride, Princess Hermine of Reuss began their honeymoon Monday with no place to dok. They were married Sunday at the house of Doorn where the one-time kaiser spends his hours in exile, and there they remain.

The ceremonies that united them, both civil and religious, were witnessed by twenty-eight guests and were kept from the sight of the villagers of Doorn and a host of correspondents and camera men with a secrecy that was both studied and mysterious.

Crowds Boo Kaiser

To many of the gamins and the curious grown-ups who peeked through the gate and the hedges at the bridal party as they entered and left the gate lodge of the estate where the civil ceremony was performed, William was just a poor unfortunate target for quips and boos.

Some of the devout Sabbatarian villagers thought it was simply awful that the exile of Doorn selected Sunday as his wedding day. And not a few of them looked with disfavor upon his becoming a bridegroom within nineteen months after the death of the woman who shared his glories and his sorrows, the former empress Augusta Victoria.

Children Are Present

Several of the children of that first union saw their father married yesterday but the wife of the former Crown Prince did not accompany her husband to Doorn as the nuptials met with her disfavor.

William began his wedding day with breakfast at 9 o'clock. Soon the guests began to arrive. At 11:30 the civil ceremony was started in the lodge where Hermine had spent the night. The register signed and other details cared for, the wedding party went up the winding path to the castle where the religious ceremony was carried out in the main hall. Then came a reception in the smoking room followed by a luncheon at which the bride and bridegroom sat at the head of an oblong table.

Demonstrations Lacking

William wore the full dress uniform of the imperial guards. From both castle and lodge the black and white Hohenzollern banner fluttered. But beyond the limits of the estate, no manifestations of popular rejoicing were to be seen or heard.

MITCHELL CAR IS BURNED SATURDAY IN MYSTERY BLAZE

Touring Car of Emil Sobkowiak Found on Mormon Coulee Road Badly Burned

BATTERY ALSO MISSING FROM CAR LEFT ON ROAD OVER NIGHT

No Clue as to Origin of Fire or Thief is Found

Emil Sobkowiak bought a used Mitchell touring a short time ago. Saturday night he and a young lady friend were out riding in the new purchase when the engine went dead just this side of Miller's place on the Mormon Coulee road. After repeated efforts to start the car had failed, Sobkowiak gave it up as a bad job and returned to the city, intending to go after the car Sunday morning.

Heavy rain on Sunday prevented his going out in the morning, and when he finally got out there Sunday afternoon he found the rear end of the car almost totally destroyed by fire and the battery gone. So far no clue to the identity of the thief, or of the origin of the fire has been found. The car was towed back to town Sunday night.

DE VALERA DENIES HE'S INVOLVED IN PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

DUBLIN.—By The Associated Press.—A long distance statement issued as a "dail communique" and signed by Eamon De Valera as president, announces definitely that there is no truth in the rumors of peace negotiations between his party and the Free State government.

The principles which the republicans are defending, De Valera says, are by nature irreducible and not open to compromise. Victory for the "republic" or utter defeat and extermination are now, he declares, the only alternatives.

WISCONSIN RAILWAY CONDUCTOR RETIRES AT AGE OF SEVENTY

STEVENS POINT Wis.—Conductor W. I. Bush has made his last trip. Continuous service of fifty-two years in railroad work ended for him last week when he retired on a pension at the age of 70. For the last eighteen years he has been in charge of passenger trains on the "Soo Line" between Stevens Point and Milwaukee. Mr. Bush came to the old Wisconsin Central road thirty years ago as a brakeman. He has never been in a serious accident.

LITTLE DAMAGE FROM FIRES ON SUNDAY EVENING

Two small fires occurred Sunday evening in the city, neither causing any damage to property. Central station was called out a 7:45 to extinguish a fire which broke out among some boxes in a yard at Front and State streets and Number Four station was called at 10:42 to put out a fire in an outbuilding at the home of Frank Powell, 1406 Livingston street.

COUNTY OFFICES HOLD INTEREST ELECTION DAY

La Crosse Voters Witness Merry Contests for Treasurer and Sheriff

POLLS OPEN AT SIX O'CLOCK CLOSE AT EIGHT IN EVENING

Local Officials all Ready for Election Day Tuesday

Machinery is all set for election day, Tuesday.

A United States senator, member of congress, legislative and county officers will be elected tomorrow and three referendums will be voted upon.

Principal interest in La Crosse county centers in the contest for sheriff between B. J. Land, republican, and J. F. Lapitz, democrat. Mr. Lapitz is the only democrat running in the primaries who obtained enough votes to get on the regular election ticket under his party designation. All other democrats are running in the independent column.

Another contest in which there is considerable interest is that between Ole Lunde, republican and Margaret Imhoff Brown, democrat, candidates for county treasurer.

The polls in the city of La Crosse will open at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning and close at 8 in the evening.

T. T. BERGH PASSES AWAY SATURDAY AT SPRING GROVE HOME

Well Known Merchant Dies as Result of Stroke Suffered Ford Day

T. T. Bergh of Spring Grove, Minn., well known in La Crosse through his connection with the Bergh Piano company, passed away at his home in Spring Grove last Saturday night about midnight. Death came as the result of a stroke of apoplexy suffered on Ford day while he was driving back to his home after attending the celebration in La Crosse.

Mr. Bergh was born within three miles of Spring Grove in 1854 and had lived in this section of the country all his life.

Surviving Mr. Bergh are his wife, three sons, Thomas O., Ole and Louis T., two daughters, Mrs. Gena Quinnell and Mrs. M. E. Trehus, and one sister, Miss Mary Bergh.

The funeral will be held Wednesday noon from the home in Spring Grove.

ANOTHER FORD STOLEN SUNDAY

One more Ford is added to the rapidly growing list of stolen cars in this city.

Sunday night while James Kouri was attending the show at the Riviera theater on the north side his Ford car was stolen from its parking place near the corner of St. Paul and Caledonia streets. No trace of the car had been found Monday noon. It is described as a 1913 model touring car.

THREE BODIES FOUND; OTHERS BELIEVED DEAD

Heavy Loss of Life is Feared in Blast Monday Morning in Pennsylvania Coal Mine

WIVES AND CHILDREN WAIT IN SUSPENSE AT MOUTH OF MINE

Most of Entombed Miners Married Men; Extent of Explosion Not Known

SPANGLER, Pa.—The mine rescue car arrived in Spangler on schedule time early in the afternoon and the experts from the bureau of mines at Pittsburgh went under ground shortly before two o'clock. Two more unconscious miners were removed from the shaft a few minutes before the rescue train arrived. Six living miners and four bodies have been brought to the surface thus far.

SPANGLER, Pa.—By The Associated Press.—A terrific explosion somewhere in the workings in the Reilly mine of the Reilly Coal company here at 7:30 o'clock Monday morning entombed between ninety and ninety-five miners who had gone to their work scarcely half an hour before. Superintendent O. J. Flanagan at once organized rescue parties from employes in the vicinity and entered the mine.

Find Three Bodies

The first rescue party to enter the mine after the explosion reported at noon that they had found three bodies and feared that some, if not all of the other ninety men entombed, are dead.

The rescue party entered the mine under the direction of Superintendent O. J. Flanagan and had proceeded to the third entry on the right of the main entry when they came upon the bodies. The dead were brought to the foot of the shaft and the party went back for further exploration.

"Bad," Say Officials

The extent of the explosion has not been determined, but at the office of the company it was said it had been "pretty bad."

Most of the men who went to work Monday morning were married. The news of the explosion brought their wives and children to the shaft mouth where they gathered in dumb horror.

The shaft, which is about 200 feet deep, was not damaged and the cage continued to operate.

It was said by mine operators that one of the main entries was blocked by falling debris about 500 feet from the foot of the shaft.

There is a "man-way" which makes another entrance to the mine, but whether the men had been cut off from it had not been determined.

Mine Rescue Car on Way

The rescuers came to the surface after their second trip into the mine but declined to give out any further information.

A second rescue party immediately went into the workings. The rescuers were composed of volunteers chosen from hundreds of men who had gathered at the shaft. Shortly before the second crew went underground word was received that the rescue car from Pittsburgh would arrive early this afternoon.

Silent groups of wet-eyed women and children huddled together close to the mouth of the shaft mutely awaiting a gleam of hope from the miners who went down to search for their husbands and fathers. A steady rain was falling but the women, many of them bare-headed, paid little attention to the weather.

After the first rescuers came up some of the groups moved toward the company's offices, expecting that an announcement would be made.

The rescue party immediately conferred with company officials regarding the mass of debris which had halted their progress. One of the rescuers said he thought a fourth body had been found.

Identify Two Bodies

The first two bodies removed from the shaft were identified as Thomas Logue and Joseph Fritz.

Shortly after these bodies were removed, two living miners fearfully burned, were brought up and rushed to a hospital. They were unconscious and their recovery is regarded as doubtful.

The fan house was destroyed by fire which flashed from the explosion and this fact caused miners to fear that the entombed men quickly were smothered.

Owing to the volume of gas in the mine, the rescuers worked in relays and replacements were necessary at brief intervals.

Mine officials said the number of men in the workings was less than

GRADE HOLSTEIN PRODUCES LARGE AMOUNT OF MILK

TOMAH, Wis.—A grade Holstein owned by Harry Rasmussen won out in the month's testing of the Tomah association, producing 970 pounds of milk or 49.5 of butterfat during the month of October. The three highest herd averages are as follows: W. L. Boomer, 39.6, William Rasmussen 30.5, E. C. Sweet 29.6. Three hundred and thirty-nine cows were tested by Leo Richter. Nine cows were found that produce more than forty pounds of butterfat in thirty-one days or one and one-third pounds per day. Three produced more than 47 pounds of butterfat during the month.

BIG DEMAND FOR SEED POTATOES

PRENTICE, Wis.—There is a heavy demand for certified Triumph seed potatoes in Pierce county. A concern from Alabama has sent a representative here to try to buy ten or fifteen car loads of good certified potatoes but has been unable to get them. The price offered was $2 per hundred for stock that has been inspected and passed upon by the state. Southern farmers have experienced much trouble with potato blight known as Mosaic. All certified seed Triumph have been contracted for, for December delivery, according to County Agent Rahmlow.

WISCONSIN SOIL IS BEST FOR EVERBEARING BERRIES SAYS PACIFIC COAST MAN

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis.—Believing that growing everbearing strawberries is an industry with a future and that the crop could be made to bring in larger promits in Wisconsin than in the famous fruit districts around Spokane, Washington, John R. Sawvell recently sold his eight acre everbearing strawberry ranch in the Pacific coast state and came here to look up a favorable location. He has found what he wants near Prairie du Chien in the twenty acre farm of John Crowley, and has purchased the piece for $170 an acre. The sandy soil will be fine, he believes, for the strawberries.

This week he is moving onto the new farm. He has already set out two acres of the everbearing strawberries and says 10,000 more plants are on the way and will be set out yet this fall. The plants are the offspring of a dozen plants of the Joint Everbearing Strawberry which Mr. Sawvell several years ago imported from France. By the second year this species of strawberry grows about a foot and a half tall in a plant like a potato plant, the berries forming in clusters at the top. Mr. Sawvell says they begin yielding two weeks earlier than the ordinary strawberry and produce until late in the fall. The fruit he claims is larger and of more delicious flavor.

Besides everbearing strawberries Mr. Sawvell expects to set out cherries, apples, peaches, plums and pears. He will care for his new fruit farm in the scientific way he has learned while fruit ranching in the famous northwest belt. He believes just as good fruit can be raised in Wisconsin as in Washington, if not better, and that the marketing facilities are so much better it will be much more profitable.

VERNON COUNTY REPRESENTED AT LIVESTOCK SHOW

Junior Show Exhibitors Take Premiums at Madison

The junior livestock show held at the stock pavilion in Madison during the week of October 23 to 28 was very well attended and brought forth many fine exhibits of baby beef, hogs, sheep and dairy cattle. The first part of the week was devoted to the fat stock primarily. Tuesday evening was given over to an auction sale of all beef animals. Buyers from all large packing concerns were on hand to offer their bids for the animals shown. Vernon county was represented by three beef animals. Those showing the beef animals were Guy Theige, Westby, whose animal sold for $10.75 per hundred pounds; Vern Gochenaur, Viola, whose animal sold for $13.50 per hundredweight. This animal, a junior yearling was fifteenth in his class of twenty-six and weighed 1,100 lbs. Beryl Gochenaur of Viola showed a Hereford yearling. This animal also sold for $13.50 per hundred. The animal was second in a class of twenty-six and weighed 1,075 pounds.

The dairy classes exhibited from Vernon county were limited to two Guernseys exhibited by Pearl Engler, two Redpoles exhibited by Theodore Thompson and one Ayrshire exhibited by Glen Aiken. The Ayrshire male in strong competition, won second place which entitled him to $12 in premium money. The Redpoles of dual purpose calves won first in either class or a total of $30 in premiums. Both Guernseys likewise won first place or a total of $40 in premium money. Our junior livestock exhibitors are to be congratulated on their fine work and are to be encouraged to make a larger representation in 1923.

The junior livestock exhibitors with Mr. Engler were Glen Aiken, Theodore Thompson, Pearl Cunningham and Pearl Engler. A very interesting part of the week's program was the dairy banquet prepared in honor of Dr. Babcock on his 79th birthday. On this particular occasion all senior exhibitors, county agents and extension workers entertained the junior exhibitors of the livestock show.

WISCONSIN TO BE REPRESENTED AT HEREFORD SHOW

MADISON, Wis.—Wisconsin will be represented by thirteen head of Hereford cattle at the American Royal Livestock show to be held at Kansas City November 18-25. The Herefords have been entered by J. C. Robinson and Son of Evansville.

The stock grown on the Robinson farm has taken a prominent part in the leading American shows for fifteen years. At the state fair recently the grand champion "Maples Lass 143rd" was shown by the Robinsons, who in addition won many other ribbons. Their farm, "The Maples" is the home of Bonnie Brae 8th" a Hereford champion of former years.

The thirteen Hereford entries from Wisconsin are only part of the 660 head of Herefords which will make the 1922 Royal Hereford show "the greatest exhibition of Herefords ever assembled in an American arena," according to an announcement made by the American Hereford association after tabulation of the entries. Sixty breeders from fifteen states will participate.

HOLSTEINS BRING GOOD PRICES AT IOWA COUNTY SALE

MINERAL POINT—The first annual consignment sale of the Iowa County Holstein association brought buyers from Iowa, North Dakota, Illinois and distant points in Wisconsin. Sixty-seven registered, pure bred cows sold for a total of $9,770, an average of $145.32 a head. Twenty-six grade Holstein cows sold for an average of $80 a head. Miss Mayme Duffy, who operates the Apex Holstein farm, north of Highland, paid $600 for two 2-year-old heifers.

CONSIGNMENT SALE OF HOLSTEINS AT SPARTA ON NOV. 16

Pure Breds and Grades to be Sold at Second Annual Sparta Sale

Another step in Monroe county's livestock advancement will be made when the Holstein breeders hold their second Holstein consignment sale at Sparta, November 16th. With a choice lot of 70 purebreds and grades to be sold under the auctioneer's hammer, Monroe county farmers will have a chance to buy animals that would probably cost considerably more to buy in private treaty. The sale will be held in Scheppke's Ford garage which will be warm, light and comfortable in every way.

The county's first consignment sale, held at Sparta last spring, brought a great deal of credit to the management and the consigners by assuring buyers that public auction sales were not for the purpose of unloading inferior stuff, but rather for the purpose of building for our county a reputation for high class stock. The management of the sale this fall has kept this thought uppermost in mind and even better offering than last spring is guaranteed.

GUERNSEY SALE AT WEST SALEM ON NOVEMBER 9

On Thursday, November 9, there will be placed on sale in the stock sales pavilion at West Salem 150 choice grade Guernseys. All the cattle are high grades and fresh, or about to freshen. They are tuberculin tested and ready for shipment into any state.

In the lot to be sold are 100 cows from 3 to 8 years old, many of which have large cow testing records, and 50 springing heifers, 2 years old. This is the largest sale of choice grades ever held in Wisconsin, according to an announcement of those in charge of the sale. G. W. Dudley is clerk of the sale, and O. G. Clark will be auctioneer.

ANNUAL CORN AND GRAIN SHOW HELD BY GLASCO CLUB

Sixth Show Given by Club is Attended by Usual Large Crowd

CLUB ORGANIZED IN 1916 HAS HELD 74 BIG MEETINGS

Show Has Shown Improvement Each Year

Friday, October 20, the Glasco Get-Together club held its annual corn and grain show. This was the sixth show given by the club and as usual was attended by a large crowd of interested people from different communities.

There was a very good showing of corn, grain and vegetables and all of very good quality.

This was the first year the ladies department was included and there was a large showing of fancy work, canned goods and cooking. This department was equal to what is seen in many county fairs.

The children's department was open to two school districts, Glasgow and Hardie's Creek, which make up the club. They had a very good collection of weed seeds, wood samples, vegetables, cooking and sewing.

The judging was done by Mr. Holden of Madison and Miss Teare of the county school at Onalaska.

A large crowd enjoyed the dinner at noon.

In the afternoon an interesting and instructive program was given at which Mr. Holden talked on "Preparing Exhibits." County Agent Vergeront of Black River Falls gave a talk on "Poultry Raising." Music was given by local people.

In the evening Miss Teare gave a talk on "Judging Exhibits." County Agent Spreiter of Onalaska gave a talk on spraying and care of the farm orchard. Mr. Holden talked on experiment work at the agricultural college. Another interesting and instructive feature of the evening's program was an original farce, showing the value of community work. Music was furnished by a ladies' quintet, male quartet and instrumental duet.

The Glasgow Get-Together club organized in 1916, so far has never failed to hold the regular monthly meeting and now has a record of 74 meetings.

Each year the corn and grain show is a decided improvement over the one held the previous year. This year the show and programs were held in the beautiful new school building, which was erected in 1920. The large school room was packed to over-flowing in the evening. The club holds its regular monthly meetings the first Friday of each month. Visitors are always welcome.

HOLMEN TESTING SOCIETY REPORT FOR SEPTEMBER

High herd averages for the month show K. O. Gaarder's big herd of grade and purebred Gurensеys in the lead with an average of 623 pounds milk, testing 4.55 per cent making 29.4 pounds butterfat.

The herd of Engaas comes in for second place with an average of 594 pounds milk testing 4.66 pounds making 27.7 pounds butterfat.

During the month two boarders went to the block and nine heifers and 6 high grade cows were sold for good prices to out of state buyers.

A very interesting two-day meeting was held at Madison the 26th and 27th, when the Wisconsin Dairymen's association and Wisconsin Testers' association held a joint feeding meeting. Among the many things discussed were winter's rations for profit and recent discoveries in the feeding of dairy cattle. Prof. E. S. Savage of the Cornell agricultural college, New York, gave a very interesting talk on mixed feeds as he saw them.

The Junior Livestock exposition was being held at the same time which gave us an opportunity to view the fine stock sent there by Wisconsin's boys and girls.

Prof. Humphrey's talk on dairying in South America, given at the banquet held in honor of Dr. Babcock, was certainly very interesting. About 40 of Wisconsin's cow testers and most of the county agents were present at the meetings.

The following is some of the high cows for the month.

REGULAR SHORT COURSE AT UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN WILL OPEN ON NOVEMBER 15

MADISON, Wis.—Each county in the state of Wisconsin, several states and foreign countries will be represented in the enrollment of the short course in agriculture, offered by the College of Agriculture, for young men from November 15 to March 16. The short course, which lasts fifteen weeks during the winter months when farm work is least pressing, is intended for young men interested in farm management. The fifteen weeks are divided into three terms of five weeks each and new students may register for any one of them. Registration days for the first term are November 13 and 14.

To graduate from the short course or secure the short course certificate requires 6 terms of work or two short courses. Prospects are good for a successful year and we are expecting 300 or more to register," said Prof. Thomas L. Bewick, professor of agricultural education, who is the head of the short course. Last year's graduates are each under a pledge to send one student, which will help a great deal in making the desired number. The short course was established in 1885 and has since been attended by 6,130 students. Most of the graduates return to their home farm managers, foremen or specialists in some branch as beekeepers or dairymen.

WORLD'S RECORDS FOR EGG LAYING BADLY SHATTERED

TACOMA, Wash.—Two world's records for egg laying have just been broken in the third contest conducted by the Western Washington experiment station of the Washington state college.

The contest resulted in a White Leghorn pullet owned by H. M. Leathers, of Woodland, Washington, laying 365 eggs with a day to go before the year expired.

A Leghorn pullet owned by the experiment station also beat the world's record of 324 eggs set last year by a California hen, by laying 330 eggs.

HATCH FINDS NEW USE FOR SKIMMED MILK IS REPORT

The market for skimmilk has not injured by the recent action of the supreme court in prohibiting the manufacture and sale of filled milk.

K. L. Hatch, assistant director of the agricultural extension service at Wisconsin college of agriculture working in conjunction with commercial concerns in Milwaukee, has developed a process whereby the skimmilk is reduced in volume five to one by the use of an ordinary vacuum pan or concentrator. It is then mixed with an equal volume of good feed for young stock. This mixture is dried in a grain dryer of the type used for drying brewers' or distillers' grains. In this form it is sacked and ready for use.

The new mixture is being fed in an experimental feeding trial at the University of Wisconsin by F. B. Morrison of the animal husbandry department. The experiments are being watched with more than usual interest by farmers, feed manufacturers and dealers.

LESS TOBACCO BEING HELD OVER THIS YEAR

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Leaf tobacco held by manufacturers and dealers October 1 aggregated 1,457,430,314 pounds compared with 1,616,137 pounds on July 1 this year and 1,547,439,732 pounds on October 1 last year, the census bureau announced.

Chewing, smoking, snuff and export types aggregate 993,398,177 pounds compared with 1,136,484,421 a year ago; cigar types totalled 382,585,962 pounds compared with 358,201,814 a year ago and imported types totalled 81,455,175 pounds compared with 72,753,497 a year ago.

STATE POOL WILL PACK TOBACCO FOR ITSELF, IS PLAN

Will Pack Entire Binder Crop if Necessary; Connecticut Farmers Sign

A meeting of the board of directors of the state tobacco pool was held at Madison on October 26 and 27. The work of welding the forces into shape to handle the 1922 crop is progressing nicely. The financial plan is being worked out under the direction of Emerson Ela, Aaron Sapiro, and General Manager C. A. Heen. Mr. Ela, who for some time past has been consulted by the executive committee on legal questions pertaining to the pool, was retained at this meeting as resident attorney for the pool. Mr. Aaron Sapiro, who has the reputation of being the greatest authority on co-operative law in this country, is being retained as legal advisor.

The state pool directors are laying their plans with the intention of packing the entire binder-tobacco crop, if this should become necessary. It is not the intention of the pool, however, to pack all the tobacco if it can be sold to advantage in the bundle. On the other hand, the pool does not want to be placed in a position so that they will have to sell.

The one thing that will help the Wisconsin farmer more than anything else is the fact that the Connecticut farmers have signed up over 80 per cent of their acreage. Connecticut is the only state that raises tobacco which competes with the Wisconsin leaf. The action of Connecticut will undoubtedly influence Wisconsin.

At a meeting of representatives from the several tobacco pools held at Louisville, Kentucky, last week, plans were made for the organization of a National Tobacco Growers' organization. The presidents of these individual pools will be members of the executive committee of the national body. The Canadian farmers had a representative at this meeting. They raise tobacco that competes with the Burley tobacco of Kentucky.

Within a few days letters will be sent out to every member of the pool, requesting them to bundle their tobacco in a uniform manner. The intention is to simplify grading, avoid loss, and to make it more easily and cheaply handled in warehouse.

Inquiries have already been made for low-grade tobacco.

Again it must be said that every farmer should be on the lookout for poisoned propaganda that is being circulated with the intention of hurting the pool. The Northern Wisconsin Co-operative Tobacco Pool is here to stay.

HILLSBORO CLUB TESTING NOTES

Word has just been received from Mr. Verner Sorenson of the Hillsboro Cow Testing association summarizing the work of the association for the month of September. Although somewhat late Mr. Sorenson's delay is justified because of certain regulations which had to be complied with in carrying out work for the month. In brief the work for the month shows that 25 cows produced forty or more pounds of butterfat, as compared to a total of eight for the same period a year ago. Grade and pure-bred Holstein herds held the high herd average for the month. The first being Albert Kahler and second Dwand Tracy. The twelve high cows for the month are listed herewith:

BADGER FARMERS ASKED TO ENTER SHOW AT CHICAGO

Premiums Amounting to $10,000 are Offered for Hay and Grain Show

WISCONSIN EXHIBITORS TOOK MANY PREMIUMS LAST YEAR

Entries Close on November 10; Show Opens December 2

A $10,000 premium list, and an invitation to "throw our hat into the ring" and fight for the money, is the invitation which the International Hay and Grain show is sending out to Wisconsin farm crop exhibitors again this year. Last year the Wisconsin samples at the International, which is held at Chicago, won on the average over $3.00 each, besides the ribbons, and a silver cup for grand champion bale of hay.

This year the challenge is again issued to show against the whole United States and Canada, and Wisconsin exhibitors, with the memories of three successful conquests at the International, are signifying their intention to compete again and more strongly than ever for the money and honors.

The premiums are large, firsts ranging from $25 to $45. There are classes for 10 ears white and 10 ears yellow corn, single ear, 10 ears flint corn, red spring and red winter wheat, oats, rye, two and six row barley, red clover, timothy, and alfalfa hay in bales, soy beans, field peas, red and alsike clover and timothy seeds.

The Wisconsin Pure Seed Growers' association sends a representative to the show to take care of all Wisconsin exhibits, to see that they are unpacked, properly tagged and laid out for judging and returned.

Every Wisconsin grain grower is eligible to compete by sending his samples and making proper entry. This is an unusual opportunity for Wisconsin exhibitors to win large premiums and high honors, for our state is so situated that our grain, grass, and clover crops are favored by weather and climate above that of most of the other competing states. Anyone who has seed of fair quality and will spend a little time preparing samples has a good chance of winning a share of the money.

The state Seed Growers' association would like to help as many exhibitors as possible to take advantage of this opportunity, and if those who are interested will write E. D. Holden, College of Agriculture, Madison, immediately, stating which of the above exhibits they can send, premium list and instructions for shipping exhibits will be sent. As entries close November 10th, exhibitors should write at once. The show opens on December 2.

It is expected that Wisconsin exhibitors, having carried away so many honors at the previous shows, will eclipse all previous records in number of exhibits this year.

MARKET REVIEW OF PAST WEEK

CHICAGO, Ill.—Assumed scantiness of European stocks of wheat together with estimates that winter wheat acreage in this country showed a reduction of ten per cent has had a sustaining influence on the wheat market this week as against heavy profit-taking sales. Wheat prices this morning compared with a week ago ranged from 1 3-8c off to 1c advance, corn was a shade to 1-8c up with oats varying from 1-4c decline to 3-8 and 1-2c gain and provisions higher by 15c to $1.32.

It was a generally accepted opinion that Great Britian had yet to provide for half of her November requirements of wheat and that other European countries had been getting less than enough to supply current needs. Meanwhile, the outlook for domestic winter wheat was declared by crop experts to be the poorest for some years as regards acreage and condition.

Breaking up of drought in the west and southwest did a good deal subsequently to induce realizing sales on the part of holders of wheat. On the other hand speculative selling was evidently restricted in volume, caution being emphasized by advices that more than usual of the 1922 United States wheat crop had already been marketed and that millers were enjoying an excellent demand for flour.

Prospective enlarged receipts of corn tended to keep the market for corn and oats relatively easy.

Foreign buying and a decrease in warehouse stocks of lard were causes assigned for an upturn in the provision market.

Butter Market Firm

Butter markets were firm at steady prices during the week. Production is decreasing and supplies on the market, especially on fancy grades, was somewhat limited. High prices of top scores turned more interest to medium and undergrades. Withdrawals from storage were heavy. Closing prices 92 score butter, New York, 49 1-2 cents; Philadelphia, 50 cents; Boston, 49 1-2 cents; Chicago, 48 1-2 cents.

In a Rut

WE have heard much of Henry Ford's bid for Muscle Shoals. It is an arbitrary bid, made to the government with a "take it or leave it" finality. Its merits are debated. However, such confidence has the country generally in Mr. Ford, that as a whole the people seem inclined to favor acceptance without question. Perhaps this impulse gains momentum from the fact that others of whom the people are inclined to be skeptical, have offered competing bids.

A majority of the Committee of Agriculture, which has consideration of the Ford offer along with other private bids, is in favor of rejecting the Ford bid, the others having been rejected unanimously. However, only five members of the committee favor giving any consideration whatever to the Norris bill, which is pigeonholed until it comes to the floor of the senate where, no doubt, it will be substantially threshed out.

Objections raised in the committee to the Ford offer served well to bring out, by contrast, the advantages urged for the Norris bill, and perhaps citizens should be better informed as to these objections as set forth by members of the agricultural committee.

Farmers' chief interest in Muscle Shoals is as a producer of nitrate to be used as fertilizer. The government located the plant during the war, as nitrogen is also necessary for explosives. There is no dispute that as long as war is possible we should be in a position to produce nitrogen, and so it is killing two birds with one stone to so dispose of the matter as to increase the supply of cheap fertilizer and thus minimize the expense of being ready always for war.

In order to operate, dams were located on the Tennessee river, the construction of some of which is incomplete. There is also work to be done at Muscle Shoals.

It is objected that the acceptance of the Ford proposal would give into private hands for one hundred years water power of vast importance, the electric current developed by which would go largely to private profit, rather than to the economy and the facilities of a wide area of the South where it would be available for municipal and other purposes. The government would have to make still further expenditures, and would be turning over for a few million dollars a property upon which it had expended many times that sum, without reimbursement even for the unfinished expenditures. It is also objected that the farmers would have no guarantee of cheaper fertilizers, while Mr. Ford would have a guarantee of eight per cent, whether upon his investment or his production we are not informed.

The Norris bill proposes that the government retain these properties, perfect them, develop the water power to a much greater extent by locating reservoirs at logical places up the stream, thus serving to check floods as well as to provide for continuous production at the river's best capacity, which of course means lower rates. The Norris plan proposes fertilizer for the farmers manufactured without profit to anyone, and electric current for municipalities and public service generally that would bring new prosperity to a territory reaching into several states. The point is that it would aim to do as a paternal service to the public very much the same things which Mr. Ford would propose to do as a private money making venture.

These are the thoughts of Senator Norris and four of his associates on the agricultural committee, most of them from farm states. One would say that they are apt to be as disinterested as any senatorial opinion can be, and the least that can be said of them is that the people of the country are entitled to hear what these senators have to say.

The majority of the committee, rejecting both the private bids and the Norris bill, seems to be in a "stand pat" frame of mind induced by the average man's objection to anything that seems to be "socialistic." They shy at all measures which savor of government going into business, nor in this case does their opinion seem altered by the fact that the government has already encountered the bulk of the necessary expenditures, and would be merely rendering a public service upon a non-profit basis, which is anything but business.

One might think that these men would consider whether, by defeating every proposal that the government shall render to the people such services as logically and economically it can handle, they are hastening the time in which public resentment of this neglect may have given to the socialsitic program impulse and force that may enable it to harness the government with projects which rightly belong in the class of private enterprise.

We turned our railroads back to private organizations, whose inability to cope with the transportation problem has well nigh wrecked the country. We plan to sell, for a song, a great merchant fleet, whose private owners insist that with it the taxpayers must present them with a subsidy, indicating that their proposal will be at least as expensive to the country as it would be were government itself to operate the ships at a loss. We are asked to turn this great nitrate plant and the tremendous water power that is back of it over to the system of private profits. One thing that hampers progress on the St. Lawrence shipway is the endeavor of private capital to secure control of the tremendous water power that will be developed in its construction. Sometimes it seems we are so afraid of socialism that we multiply the socialists by evading common sense public service merely because to render it has inaccurately been described as socialism.

Readers of the Tribune will be interested in following the discussion of the Muscle Shoals matter when the debate begins upon the floor of the United States Senate.

The Italian Paradox

MANY strange and seemingly incongruous things appear in Italy's fascisti movement. For one thing, it may be the first instance of a conservative revolution. Revolutions are quite uniformly radical, they are revolts against conservatism.

But one need not be so much puzzled by this idea, upon examination of the "conservatism" of the fascisti. It might be called "conservatism with radical leanings." Workers and peasants bulk large in its membership. Among them are many who have been members of socialsitic and communistic groups. More, the fascisti are socialistic in tendency regarding many public questions. People used to our American manifestation of radicalism will have difficulty in understanding how a conservative movement can include radical policies and expedients.

It is merely deduction that leads to a possible answer. Socialist and communist workmen in Italy, something like a year ago, seized many Italian factories and undertook to operate them collectively for their own benefit. In opposition the government adopted only half way measures. But the plan of the workers to run the factories failed. They couldn't make the plants pay and the workers suffered. Even labor blamed the government for permitting some of its members to encounter this disaster, and possibly among these plaintiffs against the Facta cabinet were some of those who undertook the unfortunate experiment.

This was an experience calculated to destroy Italian labor's illusions about labor-run manufactories, and of course it was a blow at certain practices of socialism. And so one can understand how the Italian workmen, although still radical in many ways, might have revolted at a government which had permitted them to burn their fingers. They still want the things which they sought through the factory experiment, and no doubt favor other radical means of acquiring them, but they are done with the idea of discarding the relation of employee. They know that management is essential, and that in successful management there must be some measure of autocracy. And so we have, in their revulsion of feeling, the spectacle of radicals joining a movement which is conservative along certain lines. While at best a guess, this is interesting speculation.

At the normal school the New Jersey governor secured 156 votes out of the 336 cast. Straw votes taken in other places in the city likewise show an overwhelming majority for Wilson.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Last night a thousand boys, more or less, participated in the annual bonfire on the market square. Great flames from a heap of boxes many feet high illuminated the heavens and a large crowd of people participated in the general celebration.

Dr. F. H. Whitney of La Crescent has sold his home there to Mark Smith. Dr. Whitney intends to move to St. Paul.

Harley Oakes, a prominent young business man of West Salem, and Miss Edith Ducke of Hokah, were married at the home of the bride the evening of Nov. 4. Mr. and Mrs. Oakes will live in West Salem.

Rev. Bossard returned yesterday from his trip to La Crescent where he participated in the installation of Rev. Bantley.

Curran C. McConville, secretary of the La Crosse Threshing Machine Company, returned last evening from a three weeks' trip through North Dakota demonstrating the Cripples' Revenge Threshing machine, made in La Crosse by the company he represents. Mr. McConville says that the machine is a great success in every way.

Miss Minnie Dahl and John L. Haas were married by Rev. Gamm yesterday afternoon.

Casper Newburg has on exhibition at his store a giant pumpkin weighing sixty-five pounds. It was raised by E. Markle of Shelby. Miller and Murray, the La Crosse street grocers, have a pumpkin grown at Mound Prairie which weighs sixty-seven pounds and a squash from Smith Coulee which weighs 149 pounds. The squash is about six feet in circumference and truly a monster.

Jack Baty, formerly a saw filer at Sawyer and Austin's, has gone to the upper St. Croix river, where, in company with some Winona men, he will establish a saw mill.

The present gates at the Mill street crossing will shortly be substituted by automatic ones. These are operated by compressed air which is furnished by the cars while on the track.

The Curtises' Grandmother

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

Mary Curtis gathered her children about her one morning and broke the news to them that their Grandmother Johnson had given up her home and was coming to live with them.

"And," she concluded, "I expect you to make the sacrifices cheerfully which this will entail. You must remember that your grandmother is well along in years, that a perpetual racket cannot help but annoy her at times and that she deserves the consideration due old age."

With such warnings ringing in their ears the Curtis youngsters, from seventeen-year-old Wayne down to six-year-old Janet, were decidedly on their best behavior the first few days after their grandmother's arrival. Although she was their mother's own mother her long residence in the west had meant that for years she had not seen them nor they her, and it must be admitted she did not turn out to be the feeble, white-haired old lady of their expectations.

Even her own daughter thought inwardly that her mother seemed no older than she had ten years ago, and the vision of a gentle, wooky-making, lace-capped grandmother for the children dimmed. Grandma Johnson didn't conform to type.

"She's certainly the spryest grandmother I ever saw," Mary's husband remarked one morning when she had been with them for a month, as he watched her tripping down the street to the Home for Aged Couples, where she already knew every one, from head gardener to grocery boy.

Mary shook her head. "If I'd heard of any of the old ladies passing on I should be worrying for fear she was making eyes at the widower," she said. "As it is——"

"You don't suppose old Caleb——"

"Old Caleb! John, are you out of your mind?"

"Well," said John stiffly, "she may be your mother, but she certainly spends considerable of her time gossiping over the fence with the old man, and if you cast your weather eye that way you'll observe that part of his garden near our fence is the only part that's been weeded for a month."

That his wife turned away indignantly. She was truly fond of her mother and had expected gladly to give up a valued room for her comfort and, in short, do everything to make her happy. Yet she was turning out to be as much a problem as any of the children. For example, take her daily hobnobbing with old Caleb.

Ever since the Curtises bought their home their eccentric neighbor had been a thorn in their flesh. Not one of Wayne's carelessly driven balls had ever landed anywhere but among his choicest plants and done, according to Caleb, untold and irreparable damage. Old Caleb's hens, shut from his own preserves, had balked all Mary's efforts to make flower beds, and all John's efforts to render fences impassable. Moreover, old Caleb had once been a sea captain and his soliloquies when things went wrong were such that Mary was forced to gather her brood indoors with closed windows. And, from the start, that same old Caleb and Grandma Johnson had been what Wayne called "real chummy."

One more illustration of the unforeseen disturbances the advent of her mother brought into the home. The youngsters were, to be frank, "jazz crazy," particularly Wayne and sixteen-year old Phyllis. Their pocket money went for new records, although their father claimed it was extravagance to buy new ones. One was indistinguishable from the other, and it would be no loss musically and a gain economically to use the same one until it wore out.

Mary had hoped to make an excuse of Grandma Johnson to lessen up on the phonograph. She had fancied herself speaking gently to them of her nerves and need for quiet and rest. But from the day she came upon Wayne swinging his grandmother across the rugless floor and admonishing her "to two-step or pivot the turn as she pleased, but not to forget that fiddling was absolutely a thing gone by and the neck hold was going," she abandoned that cherished hope as vain.

Grandma made a great point of her "pet philanthrophy," which signified weekly visits to the home for aged couples, bearing a basket of doughnuts and a few magazines. Mary felt that very likely she brought a real breath of cheer into the places and grew to count upon the home's visiting hours as quiet moments in the week when her mother was innocently occupied.

But there came a time when Mary felt that to ship grandma back west would bring the household a very real relief. Old Caleb had taken to running over evenings and occupying the porch with grandma. This resulted in draping Phyllis and her callers indoors, which was the step prior to starting the phonograph and driving Mr. and Mrs. Curtis upstairs.

Then one day when grandma had gone to the home she failed to return for supper. Mary was a trifle alarmed, but it had happened once before that the matron had invited her to stay to tea and John promised to run over immediately after the meal if she had not appeared.

It did not prove necessary. Just as dessert was being served the front door opened and grandma entered, fluttered over to the table and sank into her chair. She had the air of one who had not come to stay, but had paused in passing.

"Where have you been, mother?" asked Mary brightly. "All of us were worried to pieces."

"Well," said grandma slowly, "I've been—and got married."

"Married!"

"Not old Caleb!"

Grandma snorted. "That old fossil! Why, he's decrepit, he is! Well, I've been to the parsonage and that nice old Reverend Samuels married me——"

"Married you—why, he's got one wife!"

This time it was John who won grandma's scornful look.

"I'm married to Joe Whipple, superintendent of the home for aged cripples, and I'm to have a whole suite and——"

"Joe Whipple!" Mary could not refrain from interrupting. "But, mother, he's so much younger!"

"Seven years eight months and twenty-three days," came back Grandma Johnson's prompt reply, "but that's fifteen years older'n I feel, so I'll guess we're about even."

WESLEY BARRY—RIVOLI

Wesley Barry, the thirteen-year-old boy star of screendom, came to town yesterday by way of the picture in which he is featured, "Rags to Riches," and completely captured the audiences at the Rivoli theater, where it began a run of four days.

The picture, with its wholesomeness and spirit of adventure, went straight to everybody's heart. One wonders who enjoyed it most—the young or the old, the men or the women. Certainly, it is hard to say, for the children came out wanting to emulate their boy hero, the women wanted their lads or brothers to be as plucky and fine, and the older men grew reminiscent over their youthful days.

Praise is due the other members of the cast; Niles Welch, Ruth Renick, Russell Simpson, Mrs. Minna D. Redman, Richard Tucker, Eulallie Jensen, Jane Keckley, Sam Kaufman, Dick Sutherland and "Jimmy" Quinn. Wallace Worsley's direction leaves nothing to be desired.

STRAND TODAY

Eugene O'Brien comes to the Strand theater tonight in his latest Selznick comedy drama, "Chivalrous Charley," whose pet diversion is to make hard-boiled New York understand that the Celtic temperament is mild and forgiving and shy, except—when the ladies are involved. And to Charley Reilly's distressed eyes the ladies appear to be involved in everything.

The many twists in the cross-fire action of this six-cylinder tale refuse to be straightened out into a newspaper review. But to those who fancy hair-breadth escapes, perilous situations galore, romance and a shifting background, sprinkled with a generous lot of good old fashioned exercise in the gentle art of self-defense, then "Chivalrous Charley" will provide an evening's invigorating entertainment. Nancy Deaver, George Fawcett and Huntley Gordon are in the cast. Robert Ellis directed the picture.

RIVIERA TODAY

Victor Heerman has made another laughing hit in the Selznick Picture, "Love is An Awful Thing," which is playing at the Riviera theater tonight. This young man has an unusual knack in doing this sort of thing. While his exceptionally keen sense of the humorous accounts for much of his success

Frankie de Sylvia and Owen Martin, stars of "Just Married," that screamingly funny comedy which will entertain at the La Crosse Theatre this evening.

a great deal of credit should also be given to the training received by him when working under Mack Sennett.

In "Love is an Awful Thing," which also features Owen Moore as in Heerman's other Selznick pictures, there has been devised as clever a series of situations as can be imagined. The production has all the necessary elements for a complete play unit but underlying it all there is only one thing in mind—the producing of laughs.

"DON'T NEGLECT YOUR WIFE" AT THE MAJESTIC THEATER

The new Gertrude Atherton photoplay, "Don't Neglect Your Wife," which will be presented at the Majestic theater for three days, beginning today, has been highly praised by artists for the fidelity with which early San Francisco has been reproduced. In this elaborate production, one "set" alone, that of a hotel suite, cost $50,000 to build.

The old-fashioned, Victorian decorations were gathered by antique hunters after many an arduous tour of exploration. The elaborately carved bed and the crystal chandelier could not be bought. They were loaned by a private collector. But the fire screens, the old vases, pictures and embroideries were selected with great care as to their accuracy in representing the period.

BADGERS TO ATTEND SOIL SURVEY MEET AT ILLINOIS "U"

MADISON, Wis.—Prof. W. J. Geib of the soils department will head the group of Wisconsin delegates to the third annual conference of the American Association of Soil Survey Workers to be held at the University of Illinois, Urbana, November 17 and 18.

Professor Geib, as secretary and treasurer of the national association, will deliver a report and as chairman of the committee on improvement in soil maps and reports, will give a second report at the afternoon session on Friday. Prof. A. R. Whitson, also of the soils department, will give the report of the committee on legislation.

The association has members in 35 states and in nine Canadian provinces. Representatives from at least 30 states and from other colleges interested in soils will be present at this meeting. Speakers from 12 states and two from Canada will give short talks on the various phases of soil survey work which will be followed by open discussions.

Shorter Missives

Post office figures indicate that the American people are writing shorter letters than they did ten years ago.

SAFEST WAY TO GET RID OF A COLD

TAKE FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

If you have a cold and start taking "immediate relief" medicines, you are gambling with health and even life itself. Such medicines depend upon narcotics which paralyze the nerves and allow the cold to become deeply seated in your system.

The logical way to treat a cold is by using Father John's Medicine, which gives strength to throw off the impurities, soothes and heals the lining of the breathing passages, and in the natural way helps your system to entirely get rid of the cold.

The basis of Father John's Medicine has always been cod liver oil, and by our scientific process it is so compounded with other ingredients that it is readily taken up even by a weakened digestive system. It is guaranteed free from narcotic drugs or stimulants.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need) apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

CLINTON PITTINGER WIFE AND SON ARE HURT IN COLLISION

Family Automobile and Car Driven by Strum Citizen Collide on Road Near Galesville

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Pittinger and son of Trempealeau, while returning from Ettrick last Thursday night, were run into by a car speeding in the opposite direction, according to Mr. Pittinger. The Pittinger car had come up with a threshing machine two miles out of Galesville. The car speeding from La Crosse, turned out to pass the threshing machine and crashed into the Pittinger car, it is said, which was following closely behind.

Mr. and Mrs. Pittinger and son were thrown out and the speeding car sped on, it is asserted. A passing car picked up the Pittingers and took them to Galesville. Mrs. Pittinger did not regain consciousness for three hours after he was taken to the doctor's office.

The Pittinger car was badly wrecked. The driver of the other car was identified the next day as a man from Strum.

NEW DEPOSITS OF IRON ORE FOUND NEAR COUDERAY

COUDERAY, Wis.—New deposits of high grade iron ore have been uncovered near here by Albert Lewiston, a hunter and trapper of this city.

Samples picked up in this locality about four miles from here, were sent to the department of mining and metallurgy at the University of Wisconsin and reported to be excellent specimens of high grade ore.

An experienced mining engineer will be employed to assist in determining the extent of the deposit and its value.

A drop of hot paraffine on the spot of the shoe over a corn will make the leather stretch.

NEW YORK MEN TO START CHILDREN'S CAMP IN WISCONSIN

EAGLE RIVER, Wis.—New York men have purchased 1,600 acres at Harris Lake near Winchester, in the northwestern part of Vilas county and will establish a large summer recreation camp for boys and girls.

Warren T. Bullock, formerly of Milwaukee, who for many years has owned a private lodge near State Line, is among those interested in the project. It is said that the camp will be able to accommodate more young people than any yet erected in this region.

The treaty of Paris in 1856 ended privateering as a modern method of warfare.

OVER THREE MILES OF CONCRETE ROAD LAID BY OCTOBER 1

Weather Conditions Good for Construction Work; Little too Dry

MADISON, Wis.—"Weather conditions have been very favorable for road work during the past quarter, except that the drought which began early in the month of August and has continued with but little interruption since has prevented the new gravel roads under construction from 'coming down' under traffic as they would have done had there been the normal amount of rain. Dry weather has also interfered with maintenance and has made it more difficult than usual to do the most effective grading work."

This is the statement of A. R. Hirst, state highway engineer. He says that contracts have been let for the construction of a total of 455.55 miles of concrete paving. Of this 19.69 miles were completed before June first; 76.03 miles in June; 88.03 miles in July; 88.97 miles in August, and 45.42 miles in September, making a total of 315.19 miles complete by October first.

The reason for the falling off in the month of September is the shortage of cement and aggregates for concrete work, resulting from the rail strike and the strike at the coal mines. The normal requirements at the beginning of the quarter were approximately eighty carloads of cement per day. This supply was reduced materially about the middle of August, and the average amount of cement received during September did not exceed twenty carloads per day. The excellent progress made during August was due to a large extent to cement stored earlier in the season in anticipation of interference with the supply, and this stored cement helped out materially in September.

COLD FOLLOWS STORM

DENVER, Col.—Generally fair weather with lower temperatures prevailed throughout the Rocky mountain region Monday following a two days storm that took a toll of four deaths and injured many.

The storm had moved northeastward, according to the district weather bureau here and is now centered in Minnesota. Billings, Mont., shivered today in a temperature four degree above zero, while throughout Wyoming temperatures ranging from 12 to 15 degrees above zero were reported.

STOCK MARKET CLOSE

Bear interests launched another attack in the final hour. St. Paul, Erie, Rock Island, New Haven and Missouri Pacific were hammered down 1 to 3 points. Pressure was then resumed against other active issues, forcing a number of them to their low prices of the forenoon. The close was heavy, sales 500,000 shares.

PIG WOMAN'S STORY IS CORROBORATED BY ANOTHER WITNESS

Woman Living Near Scene of Crime Questioned Today by Prosecutor

NEW BRUNSWICK N. J.—By The Associated Press.—Mrs. A. C. Fraley, resident of the house that stands nearest the crabapple tree under which the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills were found slain, rose to the magnitude of a stellar witness for the state Monday in a long interview with Special Detective Mason.

After quizzing Mrs. Fraley for nearly three hours Mason said he considered her a 'most important witness,' asserting that she had corroborated the amazing "eye-witness" story of Mrs. Jane Gibson in many points.

Barbara Touch and Louise Geist, maids in the home of Mrs. Frances N. Stevens Hall, the rector's wife, appeared at the court house shortly after noon for questioning by Mason.

PREDICT VICTORY FOR TOWNSEND IN MICHIGAN ELECTION

DETROIT, Mich.—A prediction that Senator Charles E. Townsend, republican nominee for re-election, would win in Tuesday's state-wide election by between 90,000 and 100,000 votes was made here by the republican state central committee and was countered from the democratic state headquarters by a prediction that Former Governor W. N. Ferris, democratic nominee, would be the victor, by 50,000 majority.

The republican chiefs also declared in a formal statement that the entire republican state ticket would win by an overwhelming vote.

Bring Up Burned Miners

The rescuers brought two more bodies and two more unconscious and badly burned miners to the surface a few minutes after the first victims had been removed. The dead are: John Flapte and Michael Surick.

The Reilly mine was regarded as non-gaseous and the miners worked with open lamps. The explosion was so terrific that the machinery in the fan-house was blown from its foundation.

Foul air quickly filled the mine and rescuers reported great difficulty in making progress toward the section where the main body of miners were trapped.

INGREN SKOGEN IS A CANDIDATE FOR FILM STAR BERTH

Well Known La Crosse Dancer Enters Into Competition for Big Place

Miss Ingren Skogen, who is well known as a dancer in the east and who has had considerable experience on the legitimate stage, has entered her name in a contest being conducted at the present time to find capable material for new movie stars.

Representatives of the film company who visited La Crosse yesterday were much impressed with Miss Skogen's qualifications as a movie possibility. Her past experience would be very valuable and she has already proved herself capable on the stage and in front of the camera.

This picture will be made in California in January under the direction of the famous E. H. Griffith, who at present is directing Seena Owen in a Cosmopolitan-Paramount production.

The picture Miss Skogen can appear in will be adapted from Mary Roberts Rinehart's Saturday Evening Post story called "The Simple Lifers." It is being screened under the name "The Isle of Paradise." Eugene O'Brien will probably be the male lead.

Feeling that the present stars are no better than many others outside of the pictures and that many are being overpaid, a big film producing company is going to train the winner of the contest for stardom.

Miss Skogen among others in La Crosse has entered her name and will compete in the contest which is to be decided by popular vote.

ELECTION SCANDAL IN OHIO FEATURES CLOSE OF CAMPAIGN

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—An election scandal in which one man has been arrested and four others are sought on warrants charging them with the attempted purchase of the absentee votes of Pike county residents now living in Scioto and Ross counties, featured the eleventh hour of Ohio's strenuous political campaign.

Dry workers continued their campaign in the churches yesterday against the proposed amendment to legalize the sale of wine and beer in Ohio.

The wet and dry issue will enter many of the 22 congressional races. Fourteen congressional candidates have been classed as "wets" by the Anti-saloon league and 28 have been classed as dry.

Mrs. Virginia D. Green of Cleveland is an independent candidate for U. S. senator and Common Pleas Judge F. E. Allen of Cleveland is an independent candidate for judge of the state supreme court.

Leaders of both parties agree that the result of the vote in Ohio will be an endorsement or a rejection of President Harding's administration by the voters of his home state.

CHILDREN FEATURE VODVIL ATTRACTION AT RIVOLI SUNDAY

Two Acts With Children Get Good Reception; Dardon Revue also Good

Children appearing on the vaudeville bill at the Rivoli in the show which opened for a four day run Sunday afternoon rivalled Wesley Barry, who plays the leading role in the motion picture attraction, in popularity. Two of the three acts which appeared feature children.

The opening number, a comedy acrobatic jumping act by McIlvar and Hamilton, was a new interpretation of the old time barrel act. McIlvar is a clever entertainer and intersperses some good comedy with his difficult and dangerous jumping stunts. He brings out the children, a little boy and a little girl of about two and a half and three years of age respectively, and does a few hand balancing tricks with them.

The Matthews trio, comprising a pianist and youthful dancers and singers, made a big hit. The youngsters in this act are particularly clever with their imitations of famous stage folk and are good singers and nimble dancers.

The last act on the bill, the Dardon Revue, reveals some singing and dancing of unusually high caliber. This act is replete with gorgeous costumes.

The fourth act which was to go on the boards Sunday failed to put in an appearance.

DAIRYMEN'S FIRST NEED TO KNOW THE PRODUCTION COSTS

MADISON, Wis.—The dairymen's first need is to have facts on milk costs if they are to carry on their business successfully, the Wisconsin college of agriculture advises in a bulletin just published. This need, it says, has been partially met by the 70 cow-testing associations organized in the state.

"Profits in the production of milk depend on the difference between the cost and the selling price," the bulletin adds. "The dairymen's first need is to have facts on milk costs, because his profits depend entirely on the extent to which he can produce below his selling price.

"It is possible to obtain more complete dairy cost figures by supplementing the work of the present cow-testing association. Associations using a more comprehensive plan for study may be distinguished from the ordinary testing association by the term 'milk-testing cost association.'"

The college bulletin gives in detail the methods for determining milk costs and outlines for the farmers a plan for ascertaining the cost of keeping each cow and the return it gives in milk.

Why Teeth Show

In pictures—and everywhere today Millions are removing film

Have you noted how most pictures now show pretty teeth? And how countless people, wherever you look, show beautiful teeth when they smile nowadays?

Those are results of this new way of teeth cleaning, which millions now employ. Now we urge you to try it at our cost, and to start today.

Try combating film

Until late years, nearly all teeth were kept clouded by a film. And 49 in 50 people suffered from film attacks.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. It forms the basis of dingy coats, including tartar, unless you constantly combat it. Stains are absorbed by that film.

It also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film. And all those troubles were constantly increasing, despite all care of the teeth.

Old ways ineffective

No ordinary tooth paste effectively fights film. In fact, tooth pastes based on soap and chalk even make the film more clinging.

So dental science has for years been seeking film combatants. Two effective methods have been found. Able authorities proved them by many careful tests. And now leading dentists almost the world over advise their daily use.

A new-type tooth paste has been created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. In that tooth paste are embodied those two film combatants—one to curdle the film, one to remove it.

Careful people of fifty nations are now using this new method, largely by dental advice. To millions of homes it is bringing a new dental era.

Two other new effects

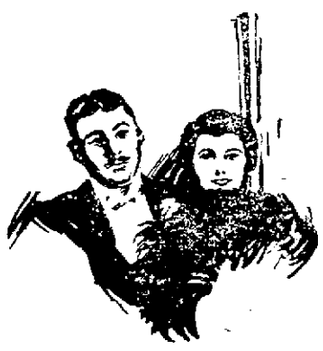
Pepsodent brings two other effects which dental science has now proved essential.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize the acids which cause decay.

The ordinary tooth paste brings just opposite effects. It decreases these two great tooth-protecting agents which Nature has provided. Pepsodent, with every use, gives them manifold effect.

Thus to millions of people in every clime Pepsodent has brought new beauty, new protection. The benefits will be life-lasting. Tooth conditions among whole races are being altered by this method.



Brings Added Charms and Quickly

You will see the Pepsodent effects, amazing and delightful, after very little use.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

New beauty, new charm, comes with those whiter teeth. Also new safety, new cleanliness. Not by scouring teeth in any harmful way, but by fitting the film for easy removal.

This means too much to you and yours to be longer overlooked. Cut out this coupon now and present it at your store.

Do You Want Your Pocket Picked?

Well, that's exactly what will happen to you unless you watch your step when you go to the polls on November 7.

You are going to be asked to amend the State Constitution so as to permit any municipality to double its indebtedness, to acquire or build street railway properties, to buy properties for the production, transmission, delivery, or furnishing of light, heat, water or power to the public.

This means that 276 million dollars worth of property on which taxes are now being paid will become tax-exempt. Who will pay the taxes to the State and to the Government on that 276 million dollars? You will, Mr. Voter. You will fill up that money hole if you are sucker enough to vote "Yes" on this Amendment.

Get mad about being called a "sucker." Get mad enough to vote "No" on the most vicious piece of legislation that has been proposed since "Grape-juice" Bill Bryan pulled his unsafe, unsound, ridiculous 16 to 1 stuff.

If this Amendment passes it gives the politicians a free rein to buy a lot of broken-down utilities at fabulous prices, with your money.

The next step in the program is that the bonds now outstanding on these properties, and that would be issued by the municipalities to finance operations, would be tax-exempt.

Do you know just what tax-exempt means? It means a perfectly legal way for the millionaires to invest their money to avoid paying taxes.

But you, Mr. Farmer, Mr. Salaried-man, Mr. Cottage-owner, Mr. Laborer, you pay the taxes that they escape.

True, the bankers and the bond men will make a lot of money out of selling the new crop of tax-free securities, but there isn't any real good reason why you should line their pockets while yours are being picked.

Don't let anybody fool you into thinking that your increased taxes will be offset by a reduction in the cost of light, heat, power, water, or transportation. You recall how the railroads were operated by-guess and by-god during the war. You remember that ships which cost a couple of hundred thousand dollars each were sold by the Emergency Fleet Corporation for as low as $600.00 apiece.

You know that public-built utilities are built and developed at fancy prices that a private institution would never dream of paying. How do they get away with it? By the people casting their votes without thinking. By the voters authorizing a lot of tricky, shrewd, grafting politicians to make expenditures such as are proposed under the Amendment on the Pink Ballot.

Go to the Polls November 7 with a grim determination to

Vote "NO" on Doubling the Debt

Kill the Pink Ballot!

CURTAIN DROPS ON WISCONSIN POLITICAL CAMPAIGN; LITTLE INTEREST SHOWN IN CONTEST

MADISON, Wis.—The curtain dropped on the political campaign in Wisconsin Monday night. There will be a few speeches under county campaign committee directions on some of the kerosene circuits, but the last literature has been mailed from the state headquarters here and the last big campaign rally has been held. Senator La Follette is at his farm at Maple Bluff, near Madison. From a campaign orator to a farmer is the change in a day. He is out pruning trees in the garden and making arrangements to have a water supply system installed on the farm to feed the farm house and barns. Gov. John J. Blaine spent a busy day in Madison, but will leave for Boscobel Monday night where he will vote on Tuesday and then visit his farm.

Three congressional districts in the state furnished the political arena with amusement since the primary. There has been a battle royal in the ninth congressional district between George Schneider, Appleton, republican nominee for congress, and Judge Henry Graass, circuit judge of the fourteenth circuit, and an independent candidate for congress. Senator La Follette, Gov. Blaine, Congressman J. D. Beck and Walter D. Corrigan of Milwaukee were among the political artillery that was sent into the district against Mr. Graass. The point of the campaign hinged about the propriety and the legality of a circuit judge becoming a candidate for office in Wisconsin, that would be likely to entwine the judiciary in politics. The state constitution prohibits a judge from being a candidate for other than a judicial office during the term for which he was elected.

There have been two lively contests in Milwaukee congressional districts. Victor L. Berger, socialist, is running against Congressman W. H. Stafford and former Assemblyman John C. Shafer, Milwaukee, is the regular republican nominee against E. T. Melms, socialist.

There has been little interest in the senatorial or state campaigns. Mrs. Jessie Jack Hooper, Oshkosh, democratic candidate for United States senator, has made a speaking campaign in the state. Gov. Blaine only made speeches in the ninth and fourth congressional districts.

The state senatorial contests have been sharp in two or three districts. Joseph Barber, Marathon, was the republican nominee for the state senate and was opposed by Ralph E. Smith, Merrill. Mr. Smith sought to keep Barber's name off the ballot by a court action but failed and then Senator La Follette delivered two speeches in the district in favor of Barber. There is a lively contest in the Racine county district where George Buck, state senator, is opposing Max W. Hoeck, the regular republican nominee. Grant W. Nelson, regular republican nominee in the first Racine district, is being opposed by Wallace Ingalls, twice a member of the lower house of the legislature and well known as a conservative in politics.

There is a probability that there will be one woman member of the next legislature. Lila E. Matteson, Clintonville, is the regular nominee. She is being opposed by an independent, but word from that district indicates that she will probably win. She is a leading member of the W. C. T. U. and in politics is a conservative. She has been making a speaking campaign in her district. The democratic party has been compelled to make its fight under the "independent" label, but it is believed that it will get on the ballot for the presidential election two years from now.

Loosen Up That Cold With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all of the advantages of grandmother's mustard plaster WITHOUT the blister. You just apply it with the fingers. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, croup, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest. It may prevent pneumonia and "flu." 35c and 65c, jars and tubes.

NOTICE OF GENERAL ELECTION

NOVEMBER 7, 1922

OFFICE OF THE COUNTY CLERK,
County of La Crosse, State of Wisconsin. } ss.

TO THE ELECTORS OF LA CROSSE COUNTY:

Notice is hereby given that a general election is to be held in the several towns, wards, villages, and election precincts in the county of La Crosse, on the 7th day of November, 1922, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, together with the questions submitted to a vote, in the sample ballots below.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters:

(a) A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for.

(b) If a voter wishes to vote for all the candidates nominated by any party he shall make a cross or other mark under the party designation printed at the top of the ballot in the circle made for that purpose. A ballot so marked and having no other mark will be counted for all the candidates of that party in the column underneath, unless the names of some of the candidates of the party have been erased or a name shall be written in or a cross mark be placed in the square at the right of the name or names of candidates in another column. If the voter does not wish to vote for all the candidates nominated by one party, he shall mark his ballot by making a cross or mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for whom he intends to vote, or by inserting or writing in the name of the candidate.

(c) Any elector, as defined in section 11.54 of the statutes may, not more than twenty nor less than three days, or if application is made in person not later than during the regular office hours of the day, prior to such primary, or election, make application to the county clerk of such county, or the clerk of the city, village or town, as the case may be, for an official ballot to be voted at such election.

(d) A voter may vote upon a question submitted to a vote of the people by making a cross (X) or mark in the square at the right of the answer which he intends to give.

(e) The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all shall be issued to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter.

(f) After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed indorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place.

(g) A voter, who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers in marking same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability.

(h) The following is a facsimile of the official ballot (insert facsimile of official ballot):

SAMPLE OFFICIAL BALLOT

If you desire to vote an entire party ticket for state, congressional, legislative and county offices make a cross (X) or other mark in the circle (O) under the party designation at the head of the ballot. If you desire to vote for particular persons without regard to party, mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote if it be there, or write any name that you wish to vote for, in the proper place.

FANS PREDICT TIE IN RACE FOR BIG TEN CHAMP TITLE

Four Teams are on Even Terms as Result of Wisconsin's Saturday Victory

PRESENT DOPE GIVES LAST YEAR'S CHAMPS THE EDGE

Hawkeyes Do Not Meet Any of Three Leaders

CHICAGO, Ill.—Followers of Western conference football are beginning to anticipate, with greater conviction but less satisfaction, than ever, a tie for the championship as the Big Ten season approaches its end.

Four teams are on even terms with two games tucked away as a result of Wisconsin's 14 to 0 victory over Minnesota Saturday as Chicago and Iowa were idle while Michigan trounced the Aggies on the same date.

Iowa, last year's champions, would appear to have what advantage the dope might give, as the Hawkeyes do not meet any of the three other leaders. Wisconsin plays both Chicago and Michigan and Maroons and Wolverines do not meet each other. This leaves the situation largely with the elevens now virtually eliminated from the race to prevent a tie by upsetting the leaders while Wisconsin is engaged in the conflict for the survival of the fittest with Chicago and Michigan.

Remaining games for the four conference leaders are:

Iowa—Minnesota, Ohio State and Northwestern.

Wisconsin—Illinois, Michigan and Chicago.

Michigan—Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Chicago—Ohio State, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Illinois and Wisconsin, in the midst of their war over professionalism and ethics, will carry their animosities into the field next Saturday in one of the most important struggles in the Big Ten. The game will be played at Madison, the home of the Badger.

Minnesota meets Iowa at Iowa City, while the Maroons go to Columbus to mix with Ohio State. In addition to these three important Big Ten games, Purdue plays Northwestern in the fourth conference struggle.

Indiana plays another non-conference contender this week, meeting West Virginia at Indianapolis, Michigan remains idle, preparing for the Wisconsin battle November 18.

BILLY MAINE AND COMPANY STAY ON AT THE MAJESTIC

Rich in comedy of the good old character type, well supplied with good principals who can entertain and full of life from start to finish, Billie Maine's comedians and dancing girls are held over at the Majestic another week. They offer for today Tuesday and Wednesday the screamingly funny musical farce, "Woman in the Case." This assures the musical comedy enthusiasts of La Crosse another first class show. Billie and Marie Maine are a wonderful team of fun makers. Mable Trainor, the Dancing Butlers and the Four Harmony Hounds, will also entertain with some entire new vaudeville specialties.

The feature picture with this production is "Don't Neglect Your Wife" by Gertrude Atherton, starring Mabel Julienne Scott, Lewis Stone and Darrel Foss. A musical number by the Majestic orchestra and international news completes the program.

OIL DRILLERS ON IOWA FARM DOWN TO 2,700 FOOT DEPTH

DECORAH, Iowa.—The oil drillers on the Bakke farm near here are down to over two thousand seven hundred feet but that depth cannot well be realized by most people until they find that it is over one hundred feet more than a half-mile race track. At the oil well, this depth has been made with results being a hole as straight as a yard measure. The drillers have recently found "straight" indications that oil has really been found, as the sluice-bucket brought up sediment that is well mixed with oil which gathers at the top of the bucket when it stands a few moments. The prospectors are experienced oil men and say that it is petroleum and that there is a well of it beneath the present drilling. As soon as the well is cleaned out, drilling will be resumed unless indications point to a large volume of oil near when the well will be shot with nitro-glycerine.

SHUBERT VAUDEVILLE WILL GIVE A MATINEE HERE ON WEDNESDAY

"Broadway Follies" and the accompanying vaudeville acts which constitute the Shubert vaudeville unit at the La Crosse theatre, Wednesday, matinee and night, Nov. 8th, is said to be a laughing show throughout. While there is the same generous production, the lavish scenery and costumes, and the wealth of pretty girls, the producers have made more of an effort, and a successful one, to give good, clean and wholesome fun than any of the other organizations presenting this new kind of theatrical entertainment. De Haven and Nice, Joe Towle and Bert Mel-Burne are the principal comedians.

BOXING SHOW OF AMERICAN LEGION TONIGHT AT YEOMEN HALL ATTRACTS ATTENTION

PRINCIPALS READY; ALL SET TO GO FOR SECOND EXHIBITION

"Red" Reynolds Substituted for Martin Who is Called to His Home

EVERYTHING is in readiness for the second American Legion boxing show which will be held Monday night at Yeomen hall. Joe Ketchel and Johnny Marino, who will mix it in the main bout of the evening, had their final workouts Sunday afternoon. Both scrappers showed that they were in fine trim, and their encounter should be a well matched battle. To judge from their appearances and their past records, they are of just about the same caliber.

Ketchel, in his last 22 fights, lost but one, and won seven by the knock out route. He met Ruby Levine at Portland, Maine, twice, the first resulting in a draw and the second in a decision for Ketchel. Ray Buckley took the count in the third round, and Stockyards Barney Dolan went out the same way in the fourth when he met Ketchel. Frankie Gibbons and Ketchel fought an eight round draw, while Ketchel won a decision in six rounds from Sailor Richey. Frank Keating he knocked out in the fifth, and Bud Dempsey in the seventh. His last fight, with Al Hale on Oct. 25, was in his favor, winning the decision in eight rounds. Ketchel is booked to fight King Roilo at Chicago the last week in November, and he meets Hale again in December.

Marino's Record

Marino puts 'em out fast by the K. O. system, having put Young Rocky Kansas to sleep in the first round, Kid Monte in the third, Johnny Russel in the ninth, and Joe Burke in the fourth. He won a 15-round battle from Kid Buck and fought a 12-round draw with Kid Bancho. He scored a knockout over Kid Martinez, the Mexican bantam weight champion, in the eighth round of their fight at Juarez. Marino has bouts pending at Superior, Grand Forks and Havre, Mont.

"Buddy" Reynolds has been working faithfully for the past month at the Normal gym, and sure is in great shape for his six round fight with Gourdoux. Over the long distance telephone from Eau Claire, W. P. Hart of the state athletic commission, stated that Gourdoux has also been training faithfully and is in good trim. Gourdoux is a prime favorite with the Eau Claire and Chippewa Falls fight fans.

Martin Out

Mr. Hart also said that Jim O'Connell, the Altoona fireman, is well prepared for his four round fight. O'Connell was booked to meet Frank Martin, who was called home because of the serious illness of his wife and the death of their baby on Friday at Sturgeon Bay. As a last minute substitute for Martin, "Red" Reynolds, brother of "Buddy," an all around athlete from the Normal school, will be used.

From Hokah comes the news that Charley Sauer is at his best and the fans know that he will contribute his share to the entertainment.

Young Gaskill, local boy, who appears in one of the prelims, has been working hard for his bout. It is his first professional scrap, and he is determined to make his intial appearance a good one.

LANE TECH LOSES 7-0 ON SATURDAY

Lane Tech high school of Chicago, which meets the Red and Black grid squad on Armistice day in the first high school intersectional game for many seasons, lost Saturday to Austin high school of Chicago by a score of 7 to 0. The impression around town that Lane Tech lost to Waite high of Toledo by the score of 66 to 0 is corrected by the announcement that it was the light, or "pony" team which played at Toledo, and not the team which is to come here Saturday.

Though Lane Tech has lost several games this season, they have all been by close scores, and the Tech has always been up against the strongest schools of their class.

SPORT BRIEFS

MILWAUKEE.—"Wid" Matthews, outfielder for the Milwaukee American association club, was sold to the Philadelphia Americans for Dave Keefe, pitcher, and Frank Calloway, infielder, and a cash consideration.

MONTREAL.—St. John, N. B., was chosen for the international skating meet of 1923 and Chicago for the national competition at the annual meeting of the International Skating Union of America.

Wheel of Life

The wheel of life, or zoetrope, as it was called, was invented nearly 100 years ago. It was an instrument which made a number of pictures, when looked at in succession through a slot, resemble one moving picture. It was, however, only a toy, and was in no way the real parent of our moving pictures.

BADGERS HOPEFUL FOR TITLE AFTER VICTORY OVER GOPHERS AT NORTHROP FIELD SATURDAY

MADISON, Wis.—The eyes of Wisconsin turned eagerly toward the goal of a conference championship Monday as preparation commenced for the next struggle on the gridiron schedule. Saturday's victory over Minnesota by a 14 to 0 score, which Coach Richards said would have been "murder" if the Badgers had a dry field to work on, has given the team and school confidence of its ability to down the coming opposition.

The Badgers are out for blood, bitter over their recent trouble with Illinois. They demonstrated their fighting ability against Gophers, and have a reserve of strength that will be let loose against Illinois at Homecoming Saturday. Thousands of old grads will be back to see what the team they place their confidence in, can do to the Suckers in return for their arraignment of Wisconsin through the press.

The protest of Murry, regular Badger tackle, by Illinois has created a bitter grudge between the two schools and everyone here expects that no strength will be spared by Wisconsin in the clash at Camp Randall on Saturday. The Badgers want to give Illinois something to think about.

Last Saturday against Minnesota, Wisconsin showed what it could do. Captain Williams raced around the Minnesota ends for long gains, and it was his ability to evade most of the Minnesota team that brought the Badgers their second touchdown. The forward passing of Quarterback Barr was remarkable because of the wet ball that had to be handled. His toss to Tebell in the third quarter, was picked off by the speedy Badger end who fought his way over the goal line for the first Wisconsin touchdown. Tebell kicked both goals for Wisconsin.

Smith who took Murry's place at tackle, put up a fighting game that caused trouble to Minnesota. Time and again he threw Martineau, their star half-back for long losses. Taft at fullback for Wisconsin far outkicked Martineau.

Wisconsin thinks that it can decisively defeat Illinois this Saturday and then will turn its attention to the Michigan game two weeks hence. This contest will more than likely settle the conference championship which the Badgers are now coveting.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK—Resumption of profit-taking and short selling, attributed in part to the uncertainty of Tuesday's elections and the critical Turkish situation, took place at the opening of Monday's stock market. Railroad equipment, oil and steel shares were the hardest hit, the losses ranging from large fractions to three points. Copper shares moved against the downward trend, reflecting the improved statistical position of the industry. Union Pacific proved the most vulnerable of the rails, yielding 1½ points. Reading and Northern Pacific each lost 1. Baldwin Locomotive dropped 2½ points and American Locomotive and General Electric 1½ each. Losses of one to nearly three points were sustained by Mexican Petroleum, Shell Transport, Royal Dutch and Standard of New Jersey. There are a few strong spots, notably May Department stores, Virginia-Carolina Chemical preferred and Lorillard Tobacco, all up to four points. Inspiration and Chile led the coppers, each at advances of a point or more.

The reaction was temporarily halted by the development of unusual strength in merchandising and chain store issues, which advanced in spectacular fashion. Woolworth soared 10½ points to 202, a new high. Kresge 9½ to 184 and May Department Stores, 5½ to 165½, also a new high. Several other high priced stocks also showed impressive strength, Otis Elevator jumped six points, and Mackay Company 2½. Among the more speculative issues, Kelly-Springfield was conspicuous for a rise of 1⅜. Mexican Petroleum rallied four points from its early low and several other active issues also hardened 1 to 2 points. Trading became more quiet, however, as prices advanced. Call money opened at five per cent.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, Ill.—Wheat took a sharp upturn in price Monday, chiefly as a result of reports indicating serious friction between the Turks and the allies. The fact that Liverpool quotations were lower counted as a dominating bearish influence here at the start but active buying on the part of houses with eastern connections led soon to a general change of front. The opening, which varied from unchanged to ⅜c lower, with December $1.14⅜ to $1.15 and May $1.14 to ¼ was followed by material gains all around.

The advance carried May delivery to a new high price record for the season. Most of the new speculative dealings Monday were in May. Prices closed unsettled ⅞ to 1⅝c net higher with December $1.16 to ⅛ and May $1.15⅝ to ¾.

Corn was governed by the action of wheat. After opening ⅛ to ⅜c lower to ⅞c higher, December 68⅞ to 69c the market scored a moderate general advance.

Corn about equalled the season's best prices for all months. The close was firm ⅝c to 1c net higher with December 69 to ⅛c.

Oats started unchanged to ⅜c lower, December 42c and later showed gains on all deliveries.

Provisions were higher.

LENROOT SPEAKS IN MINNESOTA TO URGE KELLOGG ELECTION

ST. PAUL, Minn.—The third prominent Wisconsin official to campaign in Minnesota—United States Senator Irvine L. Lenroot—accompanied Senator F. B. Kellogg and Governor J. A. O. Preus to Northern Minnesota Monday in their final appeal for re-election.

Senator Lenroot asked to be permitted to speak for the republican ticket in this state to reply to attacks on Senator Kellogg by Senator R. M. La Follette of Wisconsin, who with Governor J. J. Blaine of the Badger state, wound up Monday a tour in behalf of Dr. Henrik Shipstead, farmer-labor candidate, for the senatorship held by Kellogg.

What the Fascisti Victory Means

BY FRANK H. SIMONDS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—If the domestic phases of the fascisti affair are too complicated to permit the American to grasp their meaning, there is no mistaking the fact that on its international side this demonstration carries with it the gravest menace to world peace since the bolshevist wave was broken. Whatever it may mean in Italy, outside of Italy fascistism is one of the most exaggerated forms of nationalism and imperialism which has come since the German downfall.

To be precise the fascisti program looks to the following interesting achievements: the completion of Italian unity by the wresting from Switzerland of the Italian speaking canton of Ticino, from Great Britain of the Italian speaking islands of Malta and from the Jugo-Slavs of the Serb speaking province of Dalmatia. In addition it seeks to restrict Greek unity in the Aegean by withholding the Dodecaneous Islands, while it looks with frank appetite upon French North Africa and only partially conceals its aspiration to acquire Corsica and regain Nice.

Now this program means war, for not one of the acquisitions which has been mentioned can be acquired without war. Moreover, the first and most pressing business from the fascisti point of view is the annexation of Fiume and the conquest of Dalmatia. Here there would be an instant collision, not alone with Jugo-Slavia, but not impossibly with the whole little entente, for Italian policy seeks at breaking up the little entente and asserting Italian influence in Vienna.

The leaders of the fascisti, men like D'Annunzio and Mussolini, have preached the gospel that Italy has been deprived before the war, during the war and particularly since the war of her proper place in the sun. They believe that in the peace settlements Italy was deliberately sacrificed. They bitterly resent the policy of Wilson, of Clemenceau and of Lloyd George.

Fascisti sentiments are adequately disclosed in the agitation which has been provoked for the seizure of Ticino from Switzerland, despite the fact there is no more evidence that the Italian speaking citizens of Switzerland desire to return to Italy than there is that French inhabitants of Geneva, Vaud or Neuchatel desire to become French or the Germans of the larger fraction of Switzerland to join the German republic. The fascisti spirit is similarly disclosed in the rough treatment of the unfortunate German speaking inhabitants of the Upper Adige Valley, who were surrendered to Italy against their violent protest, that Italy might have an impregnable Alpine barrier.

But by all odds the most dangerous situation at the moment is in Fiume and Dalmatia. We have been on the edge of the war between Jugo-Slavia and Italy many times in the past four years. The treaty of Rapallo which temporarily adjusted matters has not been carried out by the Italians who have so far failed to evacuate territory assigned to the Slavs and adjoining Fiume. Now that the fascisti have risen to power it will not be surrendered and there is grave danger that more Slav territory may be occupied.

But the Jugo-Slavs have a powerful army; fully equipped as a consequence of the captures of war material in the closing battles of the war, it has been trained by French officers and, whatever differences may separate the Serbs, the Croats and the Slovenes, they are one in their determination to resist the Italians and it was, in fact, the southern Slav troops who made the long and costly Austrian resistance to Italy along the Isonzo in the world war.

Jugo-Slavia is closely bound to France as she is also to the countries which compromise the little entente, namely Czecho-Slovakia and Rumania; she has, too, a common grievance with the Greeks against Italian imperialism, which has led to the Italian annexation of hundreds of thousands of Greeks in the Aegean islands.

Jugo-Slavia will unhesitatingly go to war rather than surrender Dalmatia and the war would be by no means a minor conflict. It would moreover have repercussions all over Central Europe. Yet it is significant of the temper of the fascisti that they are ready to break with the British while retaining their antipathy for the French. Like the German imperialists before them they have a program which looks to the acquisition of territory from each of their neighbors.

Finally the domestic situation of Italy is far from offering a solid foundation for an imperialistic policy. Her finances are in a hopeless situation, repudiation of the debts she owes the United States, France and Great Britain is not only a fascisti purpose but is inescapable in any event. Moreover if the fascisti have for the moment the upper hand it is none the less patent that a white regime might be followed by a red, if the fascisti rule led to war abroad or failed to bring prosperity at home.

The fascisti unmistakably express a nation-wide sentiment. They proclaim that Italy is in fact a great power which has been shamefully deprived of her rights by other great powers, who were able to profit by the cowardly weakness of Italian leaders. But this, after all, is only a restatement of the old German grievance which led ineluctably to the world war.

However one may look at the fascisti victory, then, it must be plain that it constitutes a new menace to the peace of Europe, it opens at once the possibility of a Slav-Italian struggle and such a struggle would infallibly disturb the whole of central Europe. Taken in conjunction with the existing German situation, it must lead to new and wholly warranted pessimism regarding the immediate future of all Europe.

MISSION HOME AT SPARTA FINISHED; COST IS $60,000

Missionaries of Sacred Heart to Open Training School for Young Men Entering Order

SPARTA, Wis.—The beautiful new home of the Missionaries of the Sacred Heart has just been completed in Sparta. It is an imposing structure four stories high, with the basement. The monastery is situated at the corner of Wisconsin and south Court streets. The building is 40 feet wide and eighty feet long, brick, and is strictly fire proof. It has steel floor framing with cement floors and suspended plaster ceilings. The floors are finished in hard wood, and terrazo and the corridors are covered with heavy battleship linoleum. The building was designed and constructed by the Wisconsin Engineering and Construction company of Wausau, Wis. Many of the sub-contracts were let to local contractors.

In addition to the chapel, library, dining room and office, the building has twenty three private rooms, and in the basement is another dining room for the Brothers, the kitchen, laundry, stove and furnace room. The new building is equipped with all modern conveniences, and baths and shower baths on each floor.

The building has been in course of construction for about six months and a half. The total cost, including all equipment is about ..60,000.00 When the indebtedness on the building is raised, the plans are to build on two more wings to the building.

It is the intentions of the Society to open a Training school for boys and young men who have a vocation to the missionary life.

The Missionaries of the Sacred Heart located in Sparta in 1910. Their work is not confined to this country, but they also have their foreign missionary program.

The local community has two priests who have labored in the foreign fields in the Philippine Islands, and South Sea Islands. Father J. Meier M. S. C. who spent fifteen years among the savages, is now writing a book, telling of his experiences in the South Sea Islands. Only recently some of his manuscripts were read at a Missionary convention at Antwerp, Belgium. There are seven Fathers and Brothers in the local Society at present. They are: Revs. Joseph Meier, M. S. C.; J. Orlowski, M. S. C.; A. M. Schorn, M. S. C.; P. Zaun, M. S. C. J. Janssen, M. S. C.; J. Ernest, M. S. C. and Brothers Michael and William. The Superior of the community is Rev. C. F. Riegelsperger. The Organization of the Missionaries of the Sacred Heart came here from New York, at the request of the bishop of La Crosse diocese and after a stay of a year in La Crosse came to Sparta, and established their home here on the property purchased at that time from Charles Muehlenkamp.

The Parent-Teachers' organizations have gone to work with renewed energy this year. Among other things, they will establish a free health clinic for the children of the city, the doctors and dentists of the city having pledged support and co-operation. The first of these gatherings will be held next Monday in the office of the county nurse, Miss Hazel Sawyer, at the Court House. A doctor and a dentist will be there during the day and will assist the county nurse in the work.

BUTTERFAT PRICES

Facts concerning the price of butterfat during the past few months has brought out a good deal of interest in the prices paid by creameries over the same period. In brief the facts are as follows: 'Co-operative creamery patrons during the month of August were paid from 32 to 42 cents. This is an average price for the state of Wisconsin. They were paid from 34 to 50 cents for the month of September. The great spread in most cases is directly traceable to the quality to the raw product. Already our creamery at Coon Valley is recognized by the quality of butter it produces, in that it has established a system of grading cream

FARCE COMEDY OF MARRIED MIX-UP IS HERE TONIGHT

Jules Hurtig and Messrs. Shubert will present the famous farce comedy, "Just Married," at the La Crosse theatre tonight.

The story of "Just Married" centers about a gently stimulated young man who gets aboard the French line steamship "LaFayette" by mistake, just before she sails from Bordeaux, France, to New York. There are several oddly assorted couples aboard old and young, married and unmarried—and same honeymooners, willing and unwilling. From the time the stimulated gentleman comes aboard, without any effort of will on his part, they are all so bedevilled, scrambled and messed up that there is apparently no untangling their difficulties. There seems to be only two ways out—either the ship must put back to Bordeaux, or the young man must be thrown overboard. Things come right eventually after three hours of hearty laughter, however, and the voyage peacefully proceeds. The play was produced by Jules Hurtig and Messrs. Shubert and the staging was done by J. C. Huffman and Clifford Stork.

"Just Married" ran for over a year at the Nora Bayes Theatre in New York, and for six months at the La Salle Theatre in Chicago.

Armistice Day

The endless mechanism of our government has not yet found time to declare Armistice Day a Legal Holiday. In spite of that fact the Wm. Doerflinger Company, acting in accord and previously favoring the action of the Merchants Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce in its resolution passed in favor of closing places of business on Armistice Day, will close its doors all day November 11th.

We feel that all patriotic, fair-minded, public spirited people are in accord with that action. Armistice Day closed the greatest conflict this world has ever seen, ended forever the sleepless nights in rain drenched trenches, the scream of shells, the endless flow of blood and the wholesale slaughter of human lives. The Armistice sent millions of men of all nations back to home and comfort, back to mothers, wives and sweethearts. Five million of those men were Americans, over two thousand were men of this city, our brothers and sons and our husbands. Days, hours or convenience did not enter the minds of these men. They left their homes, their business and offered their lives unreservedly in the service of their country, their community, their city. THEY OFFERED THEIR LIVES FOR US. It is to them we owe our present existence, our happiness, our comfort, our prosperity.

This is a public institution, an institution supplying you with the things you need and must have. The war is over, but too many of us, I fear, are forgetting there ever was a war, ever were days of worry and sorrow. This store, its head and its employees, have NOT FORGOTTEN.

Armistice Day this year falls on Saturday, the busiest day of our week, it will be inconvenient for you and inconvenient for us, but we feel that such a sacrifice is small, indeed, as compared to that of our fighting men.

And so, Saturday or no Saturday, this store will close its doors in memory of those of our men who fought and lived and in respect and homage to those of our men who fought and died.

To those of our customers and friends who feel as we do, who would prefer to shop on Friday rather than on Armistice Day, Saturday, we will offer in Thursday night's edition of this paper merchandise and values we know you will not care to overlook.
